Air Carrier Airport Safety Award

We know that many of our Southern Region airports have made a huge contribution to improving airfield safety this past year. We believe now is the best time to seek nominations for the annual Southern Region Air Carrier Airport Safety Award to recognize and honor an outstanding air carrier airport for safety initiatives and achievements. The award will be presented at the annual FAA Communications Conference in Atlanta in January 2006.

The selection criteria are based on a specific program, activity, or other special and unique accomplishment(s) of the airport that resulted in enhancing airport safety. These achievements may also include any actions taken by airport management to maximize service and efficiency to the flying public. Your nomination may include any supporting graphics or photos that will help describe the accomplishments but try to limit the narrative to one page.

Please mail or fax your nominations no later than December 15, 2005 to:

Federal Aviation Administration
